Self guided walking tours new zealand

Whether you walk through the lush green forests that blanket the mountains of New England and Washington State, or across the wind-sculpted rock formations and desert terrain of Utah's Canyonlands or California's Death Valley, much of the country's untouched natural resources have been preserved and are considered critical to its people's national identity. Some of the best hiking in the world is right here on our doorstep in the United States. Spot bald eagles, elk, and grizzly bears at the hiker's paradise that is Yellowstone and Grand Teton National Parks. This 7 day trip gave us a very nice introduction.
